Clérac offers a haven of peace, nestled in its green wooded corner at the southern edge of the Saintonge area. The Scandibérique then leads you into the Bordelais area. At first, up to Guîtres, as well as the green of the pines, the bright white of former kaolin clay mines stands out, while the lakes that have formed in these pits reflect the deep blue of the sky. Next, the scenery changes, as you cycle beside the Isle River, the slopes covered with world-famous vineyards as you approach Libourne, an historic port at the confluence of the Isle and Dordogne Rivers. By now, the feel is very southern!

The route

Stage along minor roads, without any particular difficulties. At St-Denis-de-Pile, you need to pass via the former railway tunnel on foot. There is a branch connecting to Coutras, 5km from the route, with its SNCF train station and other facilities. Signposted EV3.

Surfacing smooth: asphalt.
